

UK BANGLADESH CATALYSTS OF COMMERCE & INDUSTRY

instance, most financial indicators in Bangladesh displayed remarkable growth whilst the last period of 2014 marked a new momentum in consumer and business confidence. The economy achieved a respectable 6.12 percent growth rate against all political odds. Per capital income rose from 1,044 dollars in FY2013 to 1,190 dollars in FY2014.

Overall employment has also picked up. While poverty has slid down, indicators like life expectancy and real wage have shown a positive trend and this is in to achieving self-sufficiency in food production. These are just some of the facets of why the fundamental environment is always changing for the better in Bangladesh.

International trade is getting better and a healthy banking system, which is critical for economic growth in Bangladesh, is in compliance with the inclusive development strategies of the government. These included inclusive banking, new loan classification guidelines, green banking, financial sector modernization, e-commerce, mobile banking, agri-credit expansion, export promotion, smart banking supervision and digitalization, liberalization in foreign exchange transactions, etc. In addition, Bangladesh Bank is enhancing digital technology to improve supervision so banking irregularities do not repeat in the future.

However, it should be remembered that if Bangladesh is an oasis of opportunity, it is also in the UK's interest to forge ahead with investment overseas.

Outward investment can lead to increased overseas investment income for a country, including profits from overseas subsidiaries, dividends from owning shares in overseas firms and even interest payments, from lending abroad.

For large companies and multinationals, transport costs can be reduced by locating manufacturing plant within a consuming country. Firms that build factories and plant in other territories can exploit of economies of scope, such as spreading fixed management costs between territories. Firms based outside one trading bloc can avoid barriers of trade such as tariffs and quotas.

It makes sense for our two nations, Bangladesh and the UK, to join hands and participate in each other's interests ultimately to reap rewards which both can share and UKBCCI will do its utmost to encourage such endeavours.

Why Investment in an Emerging Economy Such as Bangladesh is Vital

Quite aside from the fact that Bangladesh is an emerging economy and emerging economies will continue to grow rapidly compared to developed economies, it is incumbent on us as part of the entrepreneurial and successful Bangladeshi Diasporas to invest in our country of origin.

It is only natural that we as Bangladeshis, who have seen their nation gone through a long development process, which is now progressing at pace, take pride in both our achievements in the UK and put something back in Bangladesh. A country where opportunities for foreign investment are ripe and can form the backbone for its long-term sustainability.

The evidence very much speaks for itself: in 2014 for

UKBCCI Chairman Iqbal Ahmed OBE Wins Prestigious Business Award

Iqbal Ahmed OBE, Chairman of the UKBCCI, has been awarded the highly respected and much coveted accolade of Businessman of the Year at the Asian Achievers Awards 2015, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel on Park Lane.

"When they announced the award," said a jubilant Ahmed, "I just couldn't believe I'd won it! It felt absolutely great and quite honestly, a very encouraging thing too because it made me think that whether its myself or someone else, our community has come a long way and truly established itself. I have received so many kind messages of congratulations from family and colleagues including my wonderful fellow directors at UKBCCI that I feel overwhelmed with joy."

Ahmed had the additional honour of being featured in The Sunday Times newspaper recently too as he was put under the spotlight of the column, How I Made It, in the capacity of founder of his company Seamark.

The article profiled him from his humble beginnings to having formed the famed seafood business and subsequently his other business interests to his success today as one of the most well known Asian entrepreneurs in the UK.

Voice of UKBCCI Members

Business is All about the three C's, Says Md Mokhtarur Rahman

"Business is all about connections, consistency and capital," says UKBCCI Corporate Member Md Mokhtarur Rahman, Chairman of M & H Global Trading Ltd.

Rahman spoke exclusively for the UKBCCI newsletter, stating that there are always some golden rules to becoming an entrepreneur and doing business, which he classifies as the three "C's".

"Some say that luck comes into it," says Rahman, "but it's always been a case of connections and then consistency, after which capital which really follows on naturally from the aforementioned two. When you are starting out in business, you need to know people, the right people and make connections. Then, if at first you don't succeed at what you are trying to do, you have to be tenacious and be very consistent in wanting to try again and again. The capital will follow on naturally."

A highly successful businessman himself, Rahman has been started as an entrepreneur having left Bangladesh for Moscow, in Russia in his late teens. Today his business interests expand various continents and countries, dealing in commodities such as rice and sugar to apparel he imports from Bangladesh as well as property development and finance consulting.

Trade Mission to Bangladesh

January 2016

The UKBCCI are planning a trade mission to Bangladesh for January 2016.

As Bangladesh is one of the fastest growing economies in the world and is developing in several sectors at pace, the aim of the comprehensive delegation will be to showcase leading British companies to the local business community, and to introduce them to the flourishing Bangladesh economy and market.

To seek out the best business opportunities, the delegation will visit the main cities of Dhaka, Sylhet and Chittagong during a five day visit to Bangladesh between in January 2016. This will see them meeting relevant local businesses and entrepreneurs, Ministers and leading Government officials at the Ministries of Commerce and Education in the capital, and national chambers and industry leaders in all three cities.

Figures from the Bangladesh Bank show the UK was the second largest cumulative investor/source of FDI into Bangladesh in the financial year 12/13 with £159.5m worth of investment projects. Some 100 UK firms have operations locally with the main centres of operation focused around Dhaka, Chittagong and Sylhet.

In particular, the UKBCCI would like to focus the delegation on the following important sectors, many of which are key to both the UK and Bangladesh economy:

- Textiles
- Pharmaceuticals
- Electronics
- Telecommunications
- Leather
- Energy
- Food Processing
- Shipbuilding
- Consultancy
- Service Industry

Aside from the skills and knowledge transferred via the business relationships, the UKBCCI is keen to encourage developing bilateral trade as both the UK and Bangladesh have much to offer each other and grow economically.

Objectives of UKBCCI

UKBCCI LINK PROJECT

UK-Bangladesh Catalyst of Commerce and Industry (UKBCCI) is now focused on working together with both the British and Bangladesh governments, businesses, educational institutions and the relevant government bodies to respond to the many national challenges that currently exist and to develop more leadership, management and entrepreneurs in the various fields of health and social care, education, management, hospitality, pharmaceuticals, RMG- garment and textile manufacturing, trade and export and much more.

As we know, alongside initiative and courage doing business requires connections with the right people. UKBCCI is currently developing a programme that will enhance the way in which businesses can grow, communities can flourish, and individuals can get more out of life through a programme aptly called the UKBCCI Link Project. For some, it's because they want a chance to shape the future, and drive forward a new era of change. For others, it's because of the way that we encourage them to get the best out of themselves.

As a group of NRBs that are successful in various sectors of the UK and Bangladesh, we are looking to impart our knowledge and success for the benefit of the business community by operating an internship and apprenticeship service to the non-resident Bangladeshi professionals in the UK and vice versa.

In fact, many of the world's largest multinational corporations rely on international graduates to compete in the global market. We know that you will appreciate the difference that an internship can make and we would very much like to explore and secure ways to make that happen.
